

Nehemiah 6:15-7:73

Black Pew Bible pg. 402

Keys to Reading: After overcoming much adversity, the wall surrounding Jerusalem is finally finished, thus completing the work that God put into Nehemiah's heart.

Main Idea: With the wall now completed, Nehemiah directs the people to begin working for the future even while he remembers God's work in the past.

Theme: God's Kingdom work continues.

Reflection Questions:

- When have you experienced a work that you knew could only have been accomplished with the help of God?
- Why does Nehemiah immediately focus the people's attention on the next phase of work in Jerusalem?
- The long list of names reminds us that people matter to God. How do you feel knowing that you matter to God? Why might you struggle to accept this truth?

Act! Spend some time this week looking backward and forward.

- Look backward: Recall those who went before you who have left a legacy of faith in your life.
- Look forward: What legacy of faith do you hope to leave? What are you doing to make that a reality?

Reading Next Week: Nehemiah 8:1-18

Nehemiah 6:15-7:73

Black Pew Bible pg. 402

Keys to Reading: After overcoming much adversity, the wall surrounding Jerusalem is finally finished, thus completing the work that God put into Nehemiah's heart.

Main Idea: With the wall now completed, Nehemiah directs the people to begin working for the future even while he remembers God's work in the past.

Theme: God's Kingdom work continues.

Reflection Questions:

- When have you experienced a work that you knew could only have been accomplished with the help of God?
- Why does Nehemiah immediately focus the people's attention on the next phase of work in Jerusalem?
- The long list of names reminds us that people matter to God. How do you feel knowing that you matter to God? Why might you struggle to accept this truth?

Act! Spend some time this week looking backward and forward.

- Look backward: Recall those who went before you who have left a legacy of faith in your life.
- Look forward: What legacy of faith do you hope to leave? What are you doing to make that a reality?

Reading Next Week: Nehemiah 8:1-18

Nehemiah 6:15-7:73

Black Pew Bible pg. 402

Keys to Reading: After overcoming much adversity, the wall surrounding Jerusalem is finally finished, thus completing the work that God put into Nehemiah's heart.

Main Idea: With the wall now completed, Nehemiah directs the people to begin working for the future even while he remembers God's work in the past.

Theme: God's Kingdom work continues.

Reflection Questions:

- When have you experienced a work that you knew could only have been accomplished with the help of God?
- Why does Nehemiah immediately focus the people's attention on the next phase of work in Jerusalem?
- The long list of names reminds us that people matter to God. How do you feel knowing that you matter to God? Why might you struggle to accept this truth?

Act! Spend some time this week looking backward and forward.

- Look backward: Recall those who went before you who have left a legacy of faith in your life.
- Look forward: What legacy of faith do you hope to leave? What are you doing to make that a reality?

Reading Next Week: Nehemiah 8:1-18

